About ReBuild Houston

With the inception of the innovative, fiscally-responsible ReBuild Houston initiative managed by the Department of Public Works & Engineering (PWE), investment in the City’s street and drainage infrastructure continues to grow while the debt the City owes continues to decrease. Now in its fifth year, ReBuild Houston has worked steadily towards achieving its mission to improve quality of life for Houstonians by reducing flooding and improving mobility. Since 2012, the ReBuild Houston has collected and spent more than a billion dollars for street and drainage infrastructure improvements using a cash-only, pay-as-you-go model with no new debt. As a result, PWE has reconstructed 349 miles and rehabilitated 561 miles across the City totaling more than 900 miles of roadway improved throughout the City.

Prior to ReBuild Houston, like many other U.S. cities, Houston used bond debt to pay for its infrastructure improvement needs. Over the prior 30 years, the City amassed $1.7 billion dollars in debt to pay for previous infrastructure improvements, which costs the City more than $150 million in interest each year. By switching to a cash-only, pay-as-you-go system, the City avoids creating more debt and, as old debt is paid off, more funding becomes available for future infrastructure improvements. To date, the City has paid nearly $400 million of the $1.7 billion debt using the revenue from Ad Valorem Taxes. In the coming years, ReBuild Houston funding is projected to triple when the majority of the City’s street and drainage infrastructure debt is paid off.
Another added benefit of ReBuild Houston was formalizing PWE’s evaluation and review process of the City’s infrastructure assets. Formalizing this process helps ensure that the City’s highest needs areas with the greatest community and cost benefits are prioritized and addressed first. PWE has also improved its process of communicating with citizens. Since May 2015, PWE has held 21 community meetings throughout the City and directly engaged more than 1,000 citizens about ReBuild Houston Capital Improvement Plan (CIP) projects in their area. Additionally, the City of Houston’s new pothole reporting and tracking website (www.houstontx.gov/potholes/) has improved the responsiveness and awareness of PWE’s operation and maintenance activities. From planning to design to construction to operation and maintenance, ReBuild Houston is keeping Houstonians informed and engaged in all aspects of the City’s street and drainage infrastructure from day-to-day maintenance to executing multimillion dollar capital projects.

PWE’s ReBuild Houston initiative was developed to provide for the City’s short- and long-term infrastructure improvement needs in the most efficient and effective manner through systematic planning, fiscal stewardship and program management. The initiative is an economically viable and sustainable strategy for addressing the City’s storm water infrastructure and mobility needs. With ReBuild Houston, Houstonians now have reliable funding to repair, rehabilitate and reconstruct the City’s aging streets, drainage, bridges and sidewalks in the coming years.

And the best is yet to come...

In the upcoming five-year Capital Improvement Plan, PWE with funding from ReBuild Houston plans to:

- Rehabilitate or reconstruct make more than 483 miles of roadway
- Place more than 1.3 million feet (246 miles) of sidewalks throughout the city
- Add more than 20,288 feet of on-street bikeways and off-street trails
- Add 1,025 curb ramps as part of its safe sidewalks program
- Make 154 miles of storm water drainage improvements
- Build 4,663 storm water inlets
- Add 8 acre feet of in-pipe detention which will hold more than 2.6 million gallons of storm runoff water
About Houston’s Street & Drainage Infrastructure

The City of Houston has an extensive network of streets, bridges and drainage facilities, all of which are designed, constructed and maintained by the Department of Public Works & Engineering. In total these assets amount to more than 37,000 miles of infrastructure including nearly 16,000 miles of travel lanes, 740 railroad crossings, 1,200 miles of sidewalks, 1,362 bridges, 3,600 miles of storm sewer lines, 2,900 miles of roadside ditches, 244 miles of off-road ditches, 120,000 storm inlets and 80,000 manholes. It also includes more than 2,450 traffic signals and signs used to control and direct the traffic flow needs of vehicles, mass transit, pedestrians and bicyclists.

Did you know the funding from ReBuild Houston is used to pay for a variety of infrastructure improvement throughout the City including:

- Drainage and Pavement Improvements
- Local Drainage Projects
- Local Street Reconstruction
- Thoroughfare & Collector Street Reconstruction
- Thoroughfare & Collector Asphalt Overlays
- Local Asphalt Overlays
- Thoroughfare Concrete Panel Replacement
- Street Intersection Improvements
- Traffic Signal Reconstruction/Intelligent Transportation System Upgrades
- Bridge Rehabilitation & Replacement
- Local Street Asphalt Overlays
- Roadside Ditches Re-Graded
- Storm Sewer Lines Cleaned
- Street Operations and Maintenance
- Sidewalk projects
- Hike & Bike Trails
ReBuild Houston has reached the completion of its fourth year of implementation! This affords the Public Works & Engineering Department (PWE) the opportunity to “Look Back” on 2012, 2013, 2014, & 2015, and to “Look Forward” to its continued success in 2016 and beyond. This report includes a list of the completed, on-going and future street and drainage projects as well as the repair and rehabilitation work on critical infrastructure across the City. Some of those projects are listed as follows:

- Projects Completed

Look Forward (2016)
- Projects Advancing
- Projects Anticipated to Start

Since the start of ReBuild Houston, PWE has reconstructed 349 miles and rehabilitated 561 miles. In all, ReBuild Houston is responsible for more than 900 miles of roadway improvements across the City.
